BE it known that I, the subscriber ob-tained letters patent in December, 1851, for an apparatus for the destructive distillation of wood, and the making therefrom of tar or pitch at "WASHINGTON SENTINEL." WOOD GAS.-CAUTION-

said Porter's invention involves also a process which I am now claiming before the United States Patent Office, and which has been adjudged to be patentable to the first inventor thereof, and which said W. which an official copy is hereto annexed, and also a copy of his claims.

In the National Intelligencer of the 25th instant Mr. Porter announces that he has secured by patent the "exclusive right to making gas from wood," and threatens presecution to all parties infringing his patent. I ask how this statement comports with the fact of my patent of December, 1851, and how far the threat can intimidate under such circumstances? Mr. Porter's claim is based upon a moyable perforated diaphragm, and was

The SENTINEL will maintain, as a fundament: truth of that great party, that the States formed the Union between them by the ratification of the Constitution as a compact; by which also, they created the Federal Government, and delegated to it. as their common agent, the powers expressly specified in it, with an explicit reservation of all others to the States, or to their separate govern-ments. The statement carries absurdity on its front, and is a libel on the good sense of the Patent Office If such a claim or right had been granted, it would forbid every coal-kiln and charcoal manufactory upon the basis of the rights of the States—under the Constitution—and thus by sedulously guarding the latter, it will the more effectually strengthen in the country.

The following copies of correspondence and extracts from the records of the Patent Office will and perpetuate the former.

With regard to the exercise of the powers of the Federal Government, the Sentine will take as suggestions as to the course to be pursued in susthe rinciples of its action, that Congress shall ex-ercis no power which has not been delegated by the C. ustitution, according to a strict and fair in-terpret tion of its language and spirit; and that it shall no seek to attain indirectly an object through the exer ise of constitutional power, for the direct attainment of which it has no delegation of power. One thousand political, deeply concerning American trade and American power. It is time we had an American foreign policy. We must have it. We cannot avoid it if we would. We have larger interests, and from Specification of W. D. Perter on a greater stake in the world and its destiny, than every other people. We occupy the best portion of a continent, with no neighbors but a colony, and a worn-out, anarchical despotism. We are the olny people whose own land, without colonial de-fendencies, is washed by the two great oceans of the world. Our agricultural productions are more varied and more essential to civilized life, and to human progress—our mineral and manufacturing resources more vast-our facilities and capacity for internal and foreign commerce more extended than those of any other people living under one government. A continent, to a great extent, unexplored and exhaustless in its yet hidden wealth s at our feet. And shall such a people refuse to lay hold upon their destiny, and act upon the high mission to which it is called? Its foreign policy must be consistent with the spotless honor and unimpeachable good faith of the country. To be respectable at home and abroad, and to be great in the eyes of the world, it must ask for nothing but what is right, and submit to nothing that is wrong. It must be liberal and magnanimous to the rights of others, and firm and immoveable in insisting on its own. It must, in fine, be true to its own interests, rights, and honor—it cannot then be false to those of other nations. Such, then, is the chart by which we shall be guided.
